Unit Big Ideas:

(What Fundamental Concepts Should be Learned during this Unit?)

- How do Costume designers research the key elements of period fashion to give their productions the right look, without having to recreate period clothing?
- How do Costume designers working on a small budget rework costumes from older productions into new designs?
- How can Costume designers organize the clothing so they can change small parts to create multiple looks from one 'base' garment.

Objectives

Students will be able to...

- Research period clothing and costume designs for period movies.
- Design a costume garment that fits into the period design of a chosen movie.
- Plan out a rework of a costume from a movie, making changes to the smaller garment parts to create a new look.

Unit Big Ideas:

(What Fundamental Concepts Should be Learned during this Unit?)

- How do one make a pattern for a garment with non-stretch fabric?
- What does it take to make a pattern for a form fitting garment form a material that does not stretch?
- How does one manipulate a non stretch material into garment details like ruffles or cascades?
- How does fabric pattern placement matter to good garment design?
- How can the way the material it manipulated add to surface design and the garments overall ‘look’?

Objectives

Students will be able to...

- Use paper in place of non-stretch fabric to create garments to fit small scale dress forms.
- Design (and first make a pattern for) a dress out of printed paper, that is printed with one of their own fabric designs. Using the balanced placement of the pattern to create a well designed garment.
- Manipulate the paper in ways to recreate the look of ruffles, cascades, lace ,cut outs and other fabric manipulations.
